DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 1-2 and 7-8 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to nonelected species, there are no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 07-29-04. Claims 3-6 are present for examination.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Firstly, in the claim, the recitations "the read column selection switches" (line 6) and "the write column selection switches" (lines 7-8) lack strict antecedent bases. Secondly, are there “the read column selection switch” (line 2) and “a pair of the read column selection switches” (line 6) in one embodiment? Are there “the write column selection switch” (line 2) and “a pair of the write column selection switches” (lines 7-8) in one embodiment?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Osada et al. (U.S. Patent 6,091,629).

Regarding claim 3, Osada et al. discloses a semiconductor device, comprising: a differential sense amplifier (105 in fig. 2) connected to a bit line (LBL in fig. 1); and a data transfer circuit including a column selection switch for turning ON/OFF connection between a data line (RGL) and the bit line (LBL), wherein the column selection switch includes a read column selection switch (MP3) and a write column selection switch (MN5).

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Claim 6 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest an on-state resistance of the read column selection switch is higher than that of the write column selection switch.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Tateno, Minoru et al. (U.S. Patent 4984207), Yamauchi, Tatsumi et al. (U.S. Patent 5657264), and Watanabe, Noriyoshi et al. (U.S. Patent 6788561) teach column selection switches including read column selection switches and write column selection switches.
